AVG. TOTAL NURSE STAFFING

Nursing home residents should receive at least 4.1 Hours Per Resident Day (HPRD) total nurse staffing to meet basic clinical needs. However, most facilities fall short. Staffing levels in NY are worse than the national average, and Hudson Valley nursing homes perform even lower.

US Avg: 3.78 HPRD
 NY Avg: 3.62 HPRD
 HV Avg: 3.45 HPRD

STAFF TURNOVER

Turnover is a critical issue because consistent assignment improves both quality of care and quality of life. High turnover is often a warning sign of deeper problems, such as understaffing, low wages, or unsafe working conditions. While nursing homes often claim staffing shortages, the real issue is frequently the inability to retain staff.

TRANSFER & DISCHARGE KNOW YOUR RIGHTS

There are only six conditions under which a facility can legally discharge a resident. Federal rules also provide notice and appeal rights for facility-initiated discharges. Unfortunately, too often, these rules are not followed – making it critical to understand your rights and speak up if a discharge seems inappropriate.
